ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The invention relates to a multiple insertion head for mounting components onto substrates, the insertion head including a carrier which is arranged in such a way that it can rotate about a rotational axis and is provided with many receiving tools that are arranged in such a way that they can be displaced in a mounting direction at an angle to the rotational axis, the receiving tools being used to receive the components. Each receiving tool is provided with at least one active drive and/or sensor, ensuring that the components are rapidly positioned with the highest precision.
